Absent trustee could decide controversy

Board splits on school closings

The Romulus Board of Education ended with a "no decision" Monday night on the controversial closing of the Romulus School District's older elementary school buildings to help cut costs in the next school year.

The board split 3-3 on a decision to close the Romulus Elementary School and the Gordonier Elementary School and transferring the students to the district's new facilities - Barth Road, Hale Creek and Wick Road.

The action left the final decision on closing at least two of the buildings up to Board Trustee Hulen Yates, who was absent from the session.

Voting in favor of the closings were

Board President Gerald Budd, Board Secretary Gloria Chandler and Trustee Ronald Christiansen.

Against the closing for different reasons were Board Treasurer Jack Bath, and Trustees Carl Morris and Gordon Silvey.

Bath said he was against making any closing plans because of the uncertainty surrounding the opening of the two schools now under construction - Barth Road and Hale Creek - in time for the school year.

Charles Sherman, the architectural consultant for the district's 4-building construction project over the past two years, said he fears that the Barth Road and Hale Creek schools, originally scheduled for opening by the start of school this year, will not be fully operational until Oct. 1.

Wick Road was opened this September.

However, Sherman said that all but the multi-purpose rooms and cafeteriums of the two schools now under construction will be usable by the opening of school in September.

Both Silvey and Morris voted against the suggestion to close two schools because they felt more drastic measures were needed to cut costs in the district over the next school year because of an anticipated $1 million deficit.

"This is the worst financial time I've seen for the board since the late 1950s", Morris said. "We'll be meeting all summer trying to balance the budget, and it scares me what will happen because of the money problem."

"Governor (William) Milliken has promised no new state taxes this year, and that means there will be little money for state aid."

"When the state is forced to balance the budget, state aid will be cut more drastically."

Silvey favored more drastic cost-saving measures, and advocated a fourth school closing to avoid court litigation in the future.

"I've favored closing the Beverly Elementary School in the past because it is one of our smallest buildings in the district, and because we can't hide from the fact that one day the courts may order the Romulus School District to pursue an integration program," Silvey said.

However, he met strong opposition on the board from both Bath and Chandler and from members of the audience in his suggestion.

With the "no action" decision taken at Monday's meeting, the board postponed any decision on school closings until its March 22 meeting.

The board did make a decision on the use of the district's two junior high schools, including the new North Junior High School to be opened in September.

The board set up a class assignment which would include seventh and eighth grades at the new facility, located on Wick Road near Ozga Road, and the ninth grade at the old facility in downtown Romulus.

The vote was in opposition to a citizen's task force recommendation which called for the ninth grade to go to the new facility and the two lower grades to remain at the old facility.

However, Budd explained that the board changed the recommendation after consulting with the citizens' task force and receiving its approval.

Proposed land use plan worries mayor

Is commission first step in usurping local zoning?

The mayor of Romulus fears the Michigan State Legislature may be taking the first step toward state control of zoning matters through its consideration of a House Land Use Bill establishing a nine-person land use commission.

James C. Stewart said he came away from a recent Michigan Municipal League informational conference in Lansing with misgivings about the proposed land use bill "because it could mean state control over the use of a person's private property."

The bill, known as House Bill 4234, would establish a State Land Use Commission to provide a coordinated planning process with information from regional, county and municipal sources, with an eye toward "protecting essential lands from incompatible or destructive development," in the words of the Michigan Municipal League.

However, Stewart believes the first step toward that end is a dangerous precedent because, "it would eventually force cities to report to a nine-member state commission on zonings."

"The way I read the proposal, it gets into too many areas concerning planning and could set up a dictatorship over an individual's right to own property," Stewart said. "There's a good possibility of losing some key development in the future if a state commission without background in the local area makes decisions for that area."

Despite the mayor's objections, the Municipal League says the land use proposal is "in general conformity with municipal league policy in that it establishes a state land use commission, sets the framework for coordinating state agency land use decisions and establishes a coordinated state land use planning process with a strong role for local government."

The Municipal League, which is essentially the lobbying and informational force for local governments at the legislative level, said it does not share Stewart's fears because the existing proposal "does not provide state control over municipal zoning or local land use decisions."

"However," the league added, "it does begin to address the problem of uncontrolled development in designated essential land areas by authorizing the (proposed State Land Use) commission to approve or disapprove proposed state highway and other state developments, local applications for federal grants for sewers, drains and proposed utility developments in such areas during the interim period before a state land use plan is approved by the legislature."

Stewart said that he fears the land use act would not compensate for rapidly changing economic times and could work to the detriment of communities.

"I'm afraid if a piece of land is designated for farms, and it can't be farmed because the owner is incapacitated and can't be sold as a farm, it will remain fallow and unproductive in any way because it's classified as a farm," Stewart said. "That doesn't benefit the farmer, and doesn't benefit anyone in the state."

"The act, as it stands, seems to go a little too far and I'm not too sure that the sort of overseeing discussed in the act should be done anywhere," he added. "I'm afraid it will control so much land that no one can use it, and if that happens, then no one will benefit."

The mayor said he intends to discuss the impact of the proposal with some advisors, and then may make his thoughts known officially to local legislators.

Suburbs hire attorney to fight water rate hike

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Eagle Staff

A 12-member steering committee composed of municipal leaders from suburban communities and recently formed to battle by whatever legal means necessary a proposed 39 percent increase in water service rates has hired legal counsel.

Edward H. McNamara, mayor of Livonia and chairman of ad hoc committee, this week said the committee has retained the services of Bert Burgoyne, a Detroit attorney.

At the committee's initial session held Feb. 26, the group voted to employ the services of an attorney, who according to McNamara "would advise us how to pursue this fight against the water rate hike, slated to become effective on April 1."

The Detroit Board of Water Commissioners in Detroit recommended to the Detroit Common Council a 39 percent water rate hike. The vote to raise the rate was by a vote of 4-3, with suburban board representatives voting against the boost.

In a "protest" meeting held in Livonia and attended by more than 150 municipal leaders from the communities served by the Detroit Metropolitan Water Department, the steering committee was formed to take whatever legal steps necessary to stop the proposed water rate increase.

The Detroit Water System serves 94 communities outside of the City of Detroit. All voiced objections to what most termed to be "an unnecessary" rate increase. Contributions to assist whatever legal action may be required have reached in excess of $40,000 as of March 1. Community contributions are on the basis of a five cents per capita.

Superdrain

Stewart awaits word on status

What is the status of the "super-drain" storm drainage improvement proposal involving Romulus and Huron Township?

Mayor James C. Stewart, of Romulus, said the two communities and representatives of the Wayne County Road Commission, who are participating in behalf of Metropolitan Airport in Romulus, still are awaiting word from the Wayne County drain commissioner on agreements covering the planning of the storm drain.

After being discussed more than three years, Stewart said he believes the storm drain proposal could be implemented sometime during his term in office.

"This drainage problem we see because of the heavy snowfall, massive rains and the sudden thaw during February only goes to emphasize the importance of constructing the new drain," Stewart said. "I'd personally like to see Romulus out of the jurisdiction of the county drain and under its own drain system so the city is responsible for its own drainage."

Romulus lies at one of the farthest points in Wayne County from any drain terminus and has to wait for maintenance of drains between the city and the Detroit River and Lake Erie before the city's most immediate drain problems are cared for.

Plans at the county level put Romulus and Huron Township in a massive county-wide drain assessment district which would see both communities helping to pay for the upgrading of drains in other communities before their own drain systems are touched.

Stewart said he believes the money which could have been sent to the county for maintenance would be better spent on the "superdrain" concept which would involve a huge storm drain interceptor running down the Harrison Road corridor in Romulus to the Huron River.

Officials of the three governments included in the storm drain district to be served by the "superdrain" believe the interceptor would give far better service than the system now in use. Construction would eliminate the need for such drain diversion schemes as holding ponds in the vicinity of Metropolitan Airport to avoid flooding drains down stream in the existing system.

However, before work can begin, the three communities must receive an assessment of the drain's impact on the Huron River, particularly the dam at Flat Rock, before any construction can begin.

Estimates a year ago ranged up to $60,000 for the cost of the study.

The drain commissioner is drawing up papers on sharing the cost among Huron Township, Romulus and the county.

According to Owen

Budget deficit: Alternatives are scarce

According to one state representative, the state's budget deficit could be as high as $135 million, even if the Legislature approves the recommendations of Gov. William G. Milliken.

Rep. Gary Owen (D-22 District) said: "Our alternatives are as grim as they are scarce. In order to balance the budget, we must either reduce expenditures or increase income revenue."

"Since both the governor and legislative leaders have expressed opposition to a tax increase, we are faced with reducing expenditures. To do this, we must either cut state-supported service, lay off state employees, or both."

Owen added that the state is faced with an overcrowded prison system, housing 2,100 more inmates than in the same time period last year.

"There is no evidence this trend will decrease and, unfortunately, it is quite likely it will continue to increase," Owen said of the problem. "With these two facts in mind, the House Judiciary Committee now is considering legislation which I introduced to decriminalize Michigan's motor vehicle code," he continued. "It is my feeling that decriminalization of traffic violations would ease overcrowded conditions in jails and prisons, and because prison facilities are supported by tax dollars, resulting in some relief to our budget."

Owen added that police officers in the state would be required to spend less time in court, leaving more of their time free to deal with more pressing criminal-related activities.

"There would be a savings to taxpayers because traffic fines would be collected immediately, relieving the costs incurred by expensive courtroom procedures," Owen said. "Judicial officers would be able to spend more time on important cases for which there already exists a substantial backlog."

"The jailing of traffic violators is a practice which I feel should be discontinued, not just because it is expensive, but because I do not necessarily consider traffic offenses and criminal activity as one and the same."

Owen went on to say that such a decriminalization would not be a unique proposal. Two states — New York and Florida — already successfully have adopted such proposals, and California is in the process of doing so.

"I am not proposing that we remove all offenses from the criminal process," Owen added. "Leaving the scene of an accident, running away from a police officer when ordered to stop and driving under the influence of alcohol or a narcotic drug are offenses which I believe should remain subject to criminal proceedings."

"In fact, I am in favor of leaving all traffic offenses within the judicial system, but treating the less serious violations as civil matters."

"Considering the serious nature of Michigan's fiscal situation, it is necessary to economize and cut back wherever possible. I believe this proposal is sound, practical, economical and fair to all involved parties."

Owen added that residents interested in further information on the proposal, or any other legislative issue, can contact his Lansing office at The Capitol, Lansing 48913.

Rites conducted for Mrs. Marble

One of the area's last two justices of the peace, Emmalee Diedrich Marble, succumbed to cancer March 3 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Services were held at 11 a.m. March 6 from Roberts Bros. Funeral Home and St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Interment was in Michigan Memorial Park of Flat Rock.

Mrs. Marble, 56, was the wife of former Sumpter Township Supervisor Robert D. Marble who survives along with five children: August David Diedrich Jr. of Lansing; Richard Lawrence Diedrich of New Boston; Mary Grace Shearer of Petaluma, Calif.; Michael Robert Diedrich of Livonia and Barbara Lynn (Bonnie) Diedrich of Belleville. She also leaves 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Also surviving are two brothers, Steven Kozma of Belleville and Robert Kozma of Wayne and three sisters, Mrs. Agnes Tkachuk of Belleville; Mrs. Barbara Diedrich of New Boston and Mrs. Margaret Wyzkowski of Southgate.

Mrs. Marble had been deputy clerk of Sumpter Township, worked for the Michigan State Highway Dept. in Lansing, the Wayne County Probate Court, the University of Michigan and served as justice of the peace in Sumpter for five years. At the time of her confinement, she was court recorder for the 34th District Court. She had been ill since October, 1975.

The former Emmalee Kozma, the decedant was the daughter of a former Sumpter Township supervisor, Michael Kozma. She was a member of the Court Records Assoc., St. Anthony's Church and St. Anne's Circle and was active in Democratic politics in the south western Wayne County area. She also had been affiliated with the VFW Auxiliary and the Auxiliary to the 4th Degree of Knights of Columbus.

Student volunteer does social work

A Belleville High School senior recently had a chance to explore the field of social work in the Van Buren school system.

Spring Arthur, long active in school affairs at Belleville High, has volunteered as a social worker aide at the Edgemont Elementary School.

School principal Sam LoPresto was so pleased with Miss Arthur's work that he has urged her to consider a career in working with children.

During the past semester, Miss Arthur met with six students individually for half-hour sessions twice each week, helping them improve their academic skills during the majority of the sessions and engaging in entertaining activities during the final 10 minutes.

Miss Arthur ended up with the six students after another high school volunteer was unable to continue the service at Edgemont.

Parents, students and faculty members at Edgemont commended Miss Arthur for her "warmth, enthusiasm and gentleness" with the youngsters.

Following her volunteer work, she was recognized by Van Buren School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz and LoPresto in special ceremonies.

County commissioner set for his 'town hall meeting'

The Wayne County Commissioner for Romulus will be conducting what he calls "a sort of seminar or town hall meeting" at the Romulus City Hall.

County Commissioner Edgar Harris (D-26th District) said the meeting is established to inform Romulus citizens of the duties and recent activities of the county board "in an effort to bring government closer to the people."

Scheduled for 7:30 tonight the meeting will be organized around the theme "Know Your County Government" and will feature discussion by Harris and a film showing the various county departments and agencies in operation.

"The idea is to try to present a clear picture of what goes on in county government," Harris said. "The other goal is to clarify the activities of our board that have captured headlines lately."

Among the topics expected to be discussed are the alternatives the commissioners face in housing county prisoners with the Wayne County Jail population frozen at 720, the possible use of a Romulus site for a national solar energy research center and cost saving measures being taken by the county board.

Harris is a member of the Ways and Means and Public Works committees and has served on a subcommittee on the former Wayne County Child Development Center.

He also serves on the County Board of Health and the County Industrial and Commercial Development Advisory Council which he originated. In addition to Romulus, the Taylor Democrat represents a good portion of Taylor, Flat Rock and Huron Townships.

He'll be exhibitor in hobbies display

Belleville residents Jeff Schroeder will be one of the exhibitors on hand to display their hobbies at the Detroit Spring Hobby Show this weekend at the East Eight Mile Armory.

Hobbyists from throughout the state will be manning 200 exhibit tables, with hobbies ranging from wine making to handwriting analysis, with scores of interests in between.

The show will be open from 1 to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 1 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Among the interests to be displayed at the show will be dimensional art tole, plexiglass craft, weaving, American Indian art collections, machine embroidery, ceramics, furniture making, art prints, leather work, hand-painted jewelry, planters, dried flowers, doll making and miniature automobile racing.

"Make and Take" demonstrations will be held continuously throughout the show, allowing showgoers to learn certain crafts "on the spot." Materials will be available for purchase along with expert step-by-step instructions.

The armory is located at 4400 E. Eight Mile Road.

Task force reviews warehouse jail plan

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

A specially formed task force, appointed by the chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to review a proposal to convert a downtown Detroit building into a 400-inmate county jail, held its first meeting this morning.

The task force, composed of a cross-section of community interests, including professionals and announced last week by Roscoe L. Bobo, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, was scheduled to meet with the Public Safety and Judiciary and Public Works committees of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The proposed conversion of a former J. L. Hudson Co. warehouse, located at Beaubien and Madison Avenue, once rejected by the Public Safety and Judiciary and Public Works committees, is back before these two committees in a revised and detailed form.

The special task force is charged with reporting back recommendations of the proposed revised conversion of the warehouse along three aspects:

— The soundness of the architectural and engineering aspects of the proposal;

— The adequacy of the proposed facilities in terms of needs of the Criminal Justice System; and — Financial requirements and options for meeting these requirements.

The task force will report back to the Board of Commissioners on April 1.

The principals offering the Gruzen and Partners proposal are Dice, Sweeney and Sullivan, P.C., attorneys-at-law, Grossman and Co. Real Estate and Aubrey V. McCutcheon Jr.

Bobo said if the conversion proposal proves feasible, "it could provide the means of avoiding the deficit spending of $6 million on inadequate temporary jail facilities at the Wayne County General Hospital."

The Board of Commissioners this month appropriated funds for the preparation and staffing of temporary detention facilities after a panel of three Wayne County Circuit Court judges set a limit of 720 prisoners at the present Wayne County Jail, located in downtown Detroit.

The funds were earmarked for housing of up to 250 inmates in three barracks at the Detroit House o

Correction (DeHoCo) for 90 days and for the renovation of a vacant psychiatric building — M Building — at Wayne County General Hospital for longer-range use. The hospital is located in the City of Westland.

Area communities' through their respective administrative leaders have voiced strong objections to the use of a building on hospital grounds for the temporary housing of excess prisoners from the Wayne County Jail.

The warehouse sponsors propose that the county purchase the renovated facility outright for $18 million, or in payments totaling $57.8 million over a 25-year period. Last year the Board of Commissioners commissioned architects to prepare preliminary plans for a new downtown detention facility to house 400 additional prisoners.

However, the question of financing the $20 to $25 million construction cost has not been solved, since the voters turned down millage proposal in 1972.

Bobo said the problem of financing new construction has been complicated further by a current court case challenging the legality of the state bonding law and by President Ford's veto of a public works bill that would have provided partial federal funding for the project.

As we see it

Legislature must resolve police pay

IF THE Michigan Legislature wants to precipitate State Police strikes in the next year or so, it is moving in the right direction.

A series of actions by the Legislature in recent months, with concurrence of the governor's office, has been the sort to radicalize even a disciplined group such as the State Police. The most recent example of that is the ticket writing slowdown which state policemen have been carrying out.

Spokesmen for the State Police Troopers Association keep saying they don't want a strike. But they have in recent weeks been adding the disclaimer "we don't control our membership and if they want to do something we can't stop them."

The policemen are disgruntled because of a very basic issue — pay.

In the past few years they have slipped from being the best paid police officers in the state to a 75th ranking and sliding. The main reason has been the advent of collective bargaining among local units of government. Policemen represented by bargaining units have received better settlements than those, such as State Police, who aren't.

THE STATE Police salaries are set by the State Civil Service Commission, and the commission, which acts totally on its own without any employee pressure, does whatever it feels like.

That is why the troopers' association has been pushing a proposal to secure collective bargaining rights for state policemen. Their argument is that while other state employees may be keeping up with counterparts' pay in private industry, the system is not working for state policemen.

The Civil Service Commission, while recognizing the plight of the policemen, has done nothing to catch them up to the pay of other agencies. It ruled in February it does not have the authority to grant collective bargaining rights to anyone.

That resulted in a new push by some other employee organizations to get a constitutional amendment securing collective bargaining rights for everyone. Now, a legislative committee has reported out a proposal to give the bargaining right to everyone.

State policemen, who feel they have a special case to plead, are afraid the general public won't buy extending the right to everyone where it would probably buy extending it to state policemen. If only the proposal for everyone goes on the ballot, and if it is defeated, morale will go even lower.

Several other actions by the lawmakers have further antagonized the troopers.

FIRST, there was the decision to give district court judges a pay raise late last year. That was the straw that broke the camel's back and precipitated the ticket writing slowdown. State troopers who had been given what they considered an inadequate raise were extremely upset when the legislature acted so quickly to take care of another group of much higher-paid people.

Since judges' salaries are paid from court costs, and since the fewer tickets written means fewer court costs, the slowdown was a natural retaliation.

Some people, such as Gov. Milliken and Senate Democratic Leader William Fitzgerald, have done some talking about the need for better pay for state policemen. But this far there is no evidence they have done more than talk. There has been no concrete move for more pay.

The most recent move is a bill now in the House to give judges in the State Court of Appeals, all of whom have good friends in the Legislature, a $4,000 a year raise. If that zips through unscathed the troopers are going to get the idea unless you have buddies who'll take care of you, you're out of luck.

And that could mean trouble we don't need.

We urge the legislature to act immediately on this inequitable situation.

Editors touch base with legislators

A Panax Press Party

Our parent company, Panax Corp., assembled the editors of its Michigan daily and weekly newspapers the other day in Lansing and gave them the opportunity to touch bases with key state legislative and administrative leaders.

The two-day winter editorial conference, which was the first time Panax had ever tried anything like it before, turned out to be a brilliant innovation.

Not only were some of the state's most pressing issues made a little clearer during a series of discussions and question-answer sessions, but the meeting also provided a stage for Panax editors and corporate officials to get to know each other a little better.

Associated Newspapers was represented by yours truly. Also represented were The Mellus Newspapers, Dearborn Press, Wyandotte News-Herald, The Macomb Daily, Alma Daily Record-Leader, Mt. Pleasant Times-News, Marquette Mining-Journal, Escanaba Daily Press and the Iron Mountain News.

The conference was expertly put together by Bob Berg, Panax Lansing Bureau chief; Wes Thorp, Panax Lansing correspondent, and Harry Buckel, Panax vice-president in charge of administration.

The roster of speakers read like a "Who's Who."

There was Gov. William G. Milliken; Dr. Clifton Wharton, president of Michigan State University; State Rep. William Ryan; Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh; Senate Democratic Leader William Fitzgerald; House Democratic Speaker Bobby Crim; Senate Republican Leader Robert Davis; House Republican Leader Dennis Cawthorne; Ruth Rasmussen, director of the Michigan Department of Civil Rights, and Perry Johnson, director of the Department of Corrections.

But before they addressed us we lunched with the senators and representatives from our newspapers' various circulation areas.

Dr. Wharton discussed the investigation and findings by the NCAA into allegations that MSU violated sacred recruiting rules.

(Note: He is fiercely proud of his university's accomplishments and is upset that the NCAA probe has overshadowed those achievements. He is critical of the press handling of the probe and feels MSU is being "picked on.")

Ryan commented at length on several concepts of regional government, a pet project that has become an obsession.

(Note: An extremely sincere man, highly respected as a hard worker and as a man of integrity, but seemingly fighting a losing battle with his regional plan.)

Justice Kavanagh touched on problems faced by the judiciary and some proposed solutions, such as statewide funding of the court system.

(Note: A frustrated jurist who feels the courts must lighten their backlogged dockets by decriminalizing some crimes and unloading the so-called "social issues.")

Milliken joined us for dinner and stayed in one place long enough for us to ask some questions.

(Note: Very congenial, still youthful looking when he smiles, but lines have formed around his frowns. Responds directly to questions, deeply concerned over Michigan's financial crisis, but optimistic that there will be no income tax hike this year as long as the economy continues to improve.)

Fitzgerald, Crim, Davis and Cawthorne talked about — occasionally agonized over — the state budget,

The...conference

turned out...to be a brilliant innovation.'

income tax, school funding and Detroit's problems.

(Note: Young, extremely dedicated legislators who, despite the fact they don't see eye to eye on every issue, nevertheless are united in their desire to see Michigan healthy and stable.)

Smith, one of the most knowledgeable men in the legislature on property taxes, offered suggestions on how we can check our communities to make sure tax assessors are doing a fair, competent job.

(Note: A rapid-fire talker who cranks up the decibels when he speaks. Despite the fact he apparently was in a hurry to be somewhere else that day, Smith nevertheless opened our eyes by presenting facts and figures that tend to back his contention that many assessors (in fact a heck of a lot of them) are not doing a fair and competent job.

Miss Rasmussen discussed with us the civil rights situation in Michigan and noted that her department's shield now embraces the short and-or fat person who feels they have been discriminated against.

(Note: A grandmotherly type who speaks slowly and softly and smokes a lot, but who gives the impression that she can be one tough cookie when the going gets rough.)

Johnson, who heads up probably the hardest pressed department in the state at the moment spoke of overcrowded prisons that may create potentially explosive situations.

(Note: A beleaguered, sensitive man, who somehow still retains a sense of humor. He is fighting hard for funds to build additional facilities that would provide room for

'Not all assessors are doing fair, and competent job.'

800 more inmates than can be currently handled, plus some 2,000 more inmates before the year is out.)

Prior to adjourning, John McGoff, Panax president, commented randomly on his pet projects — issues to which Panax editors sooner or later must seriously address themselves: Africa, state budget, school financing, cities, Project Seafarer, education and the Michigan Education Association.

The conference was rewarding in many aspects, but most of all it gave each of us a chance to view up close the people who make things happen around Michigan. Just being there has made me a more thoughtful editor.

Ochiltree's Notebook

Dull, duller, dullest

When reporters get together they tend to argue among themselves over which candidate makes the dullest speech.

At this point the selection has been narrowed down to three men — President Gerald Ford, Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington State and Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp.

Any one of the three could cure insomnia quickly at 100 paces, is the general consensus.

That judgment may not be particularly kind, however. Politics, like ancient Gaul, can be divided into three parts when it comes to campaigning techniques.

Attack everyone in sight. That is a form of show business and it is exciting.

Appear to lean over backward to be fair and that smacks of hypocrisy.

Go into detail about the tax system and the federal budget and that is dull.

Political writers tend to define the position of each candidate by how far he is to the right or left of his rivals.

Some of the candidates find these definitions too pat. Ronald Reagan complained to one audience:

"I've been identified as a backdoor socialist and a right wing extremist. How can that be?"

Then he added philosophically: "I suppose if you stand with your back against a transparent curtain you have got to expect to get shot at from both sides."

Project Seafarer: Misunderstood

By TOM OCHILTREE
Panax Washington Correspondent

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the first of a two-part series on Project Seafarer, a sophisticated communications system the Navy wants to locate in the Upper Peninsula.

WASHINGTON — Couple the superpowers ceaseless technological race with the unique geology of Northern Michigan and it becomes clear why the Navy wants so much to locate Project Seafarer in the Upper Peninsula.

So important is the project for America's defense in the 1980s that the Navy stresses it would be extremely difficult for it to accept a turn down on this issue.

Seafarer is the code name of an extremely low frequency (ELF) communications system based on a giant underground grid, as all the residents of the Upper Peninsula know.

Many of them have not had it explained to them, however, exactly why Seafarer is so essential. The Pentagon regards this communications system as essential to prevent war — to head off the holocaust of a nuclear exchange by maximizing the deterrent capability of our fleet ballistic missile submarines.

SEEN IN that light Seafarer becomes a giant insurance policy for us all — for the residents of the Upper Peninsula, for the rest of Michigan and the Midwest, for the entire United States and, indeed, for the whole non-Communist world.

Basically, that is why the Navy, despite the lukewarm reception Seafarer has received thus far from some Upper Peninsula residents is reluctant to take "no" for an answer.

Although the subject is highly technical — even mind boggling when one thinks of the implications of a full nuclear exchange — the Navy feels Upper Peninsula people, as patriotic Americans, will support Seafarer once they become familiar with the full story.

In the end if these same people overwhelmingly reject Seafarer, the project presumably would experience great difficulty receiving the necessary concurrence of Gov. William G. Milliken and probably would hit a snag in Congress which has the final word because it would have to appropriate the money.

BECAUSE SUCH a development would be a serious blow to the nation's defense posture, the Navy has a couple of fall back sites for Seafarer in case it can't get Michigan.

One is in New Mexico and the other in Nevada. Neither has the particular geological characteristics which make the Upper Peninsula site so desirable.

The pre-Cambrian granite in Northern Michigan and Northern Wisconsin is low in conductivity and therefore ideal for a system such as Seafarer. Extremely low frequency (ELF) broadcasting apparatus could be installed in the New Mexico or Nevada sites.

Either of the western locations would cost a great deal more and the results would not be as good. Former Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, a one time Wisconsin congressman, nixed Northern Wisconsin, an action which still ranks some Upper Peninsula people as well as their congressman, Philip E. Ruppe.

IF WISCONSIN turned it down why does Michigan get stuck with Seafarer," so their reasoning goes. The Navy says in reply the subject is too important to get involved in a tit-for-tat argument like that. Unquestionably, however, Laird's actions clouded the public relations aspects of Seafarer which up to now have been far from smooth.

In a very real sense all Americans are shielded by our government's power of nuclear retaliation. This means the United States hopes to prevent war with the Soviet Union by making the men in the Kremlin constantly aware that any nuclear strike on their part will be answered by a mighty blow from our side which neither Russia nor any other country would be able to weather.

In this deterrent arrangement probably the most important single element is the fleet of U.S. nuclear submarines roaming the world's oceans — some with a mission to kill hostile submarines and others armed with nuclear tipped missiles which can be discharged on order in one massive barrage.

These submarines "keep the Russians honest now," as the slang phrase has it, but that will not be the case in a few years time as the Soviet Union's forces improve their means of detection and their ability to jam our signals.

EXPLAINING why it needs an ELF underground grid, the Navy said in two separate quotes:

"To ensure submarine survivability through the 1980s, we will have to reduce the operational constraints now placed on our submarines and permit them to fully utilize their depth and speed capabilities."

"The Seafarer ELF communications system alone offers the capability to deliver messages to our submarines while they operate deep and fast without the need to expose their antennas. Seafarer is inherently reliable, secure, would be almost impossible to jam and would make the enemy's problem to detect our submarines more difficult."

The second story in this series will project a deterrent scenario and give the Navy's answer to some concerns expressed by upper peninsula citizens.

WCCC adds new career programs

Five new career programs will be added to the Wayne County Community College curriculum during the 1976-77 academic year.

The new programs will train students in the following career fields: administrative secretary, court reporting, hotel-motel management, certified laboratory assistant, and histopathology technician.

The administrative secretary program will train students to supervise stenographic and/or clerical personnel. The program is designed to qualify persons with highly developed skills in the language arts and secretarial areas for promotional opportunities in business. It is a two-year associate of arts degree program.

In the court reporting program, the student will learn the use of machine shorthand which can qualify him or her for employment as a stenographer utilizing machine shorthand after one year of training, a court reporter on completion of the entire program in two years. A certificate and an associate of arts degree may be earned in this area.

The hotel-motel management program is designed to offer residents of Wayne County training for the unlimited opportunities existing in this field in Detroit and Wayne County. The metropolitan area is one of the major convention centers in the country with one of the few year-around tourist industries. Dr. Stella Fulham, assistant dean for business studies at WCC, says that the current employment demand in this area is in excess of 100,000 new jobs annually with a projected annual increase of ten percent.

WCC will be one of only three schools in Michigan offering a hotel-motel management program. The student in the program will earn an associate of arts degree on completion.

The certified laboratory assistant and histopathology technician programs are both one-year certificate programs. The laboratory assistant program will qualify graduates to work in hospitals and blood banks and also put the graduate on a career ladder that can lead to qualification as a medical laboratory technician with further training.

The histopathology program deals with the training of assistants who work with bloodtyping in laboratories.

For further information about the administrative secretary, court reporting and hotel-motel management programs, interested persons may contact the Business Studies Department at WC3, 4612 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, 48201 or call 832-5500, ext. 365. Information about the certified laboratory assistant and histopathology technician programs may be obtained from the Allied Health and Vocational Technology Department at the same address or by calling 832-5500, ext. 286.

Museum to offer exhibit

"The Struggle and The Glory," the major Bicentennial exhibition of the Henry Ford Museum, will open April 15 and continue to Oct. 31 as the story of America from 1755 to 1789.

Based on hitherto unknown and unpublished manuscripts and broadsides from the Henry Ford Museum Bicentennial Manuscript Collection, the exhibition is divided into four major sections.

The first, covering the years 1755 to 1763, has as its subtitle, "The Brush-fire." This period of the French and Indian War examines the struggle between the French and the English, the territorial reasons for the fighting, and the lessons learned by the colonists in Indian-style warfare that were put to use more than a decade later.

The second section, 1764 to 1775, called "The Spreading Sparks," concentrates on the daily life patterns of the colonists and the effects of the English Intolerable Acts on the welfare of these peoples.

The main or third section, 1776 to 1783, "The Forest Fire," is the story of the American Revolution: the battles, the leaders, the logistics, the arms, medicine, trade, European assistance.

The final section, 1783 to 1789, "The Glowing Embers," views the struggles toward nationhood and the ratification of the U.S. Constitution.

The entire exhibition reveals a new look at a critical period of America's past. The basic supporting manuscripts are fully illustrated by portraits, prints, maps, a wide variety of 3-dimensional objects, music, graphics, slides and film.

March is kidney month

March is National Kidney Month, and the Kidney Foundation of Michigan (KFM) is making a special effort throughout the period to let residents know ways they can protect their kidney health and the six warning signs of kidney disease.

Local chapter spokesman Nancy Dittmar, president, Western Region Metro Detroit Chapter, Kidney Foundation of Michigan, said: "The examination is important because many kidney diseases show no warning signs in their early stages. It should include both urine and blood pressure tests."

The statewide agency, which is supported by United Way and Torch Drive contributions, lists these six symptoms as warning signs of kidney disease:

- (1) Puffiness around the eyes, particularly in children.
- (2) Swelling of parts of the body.
- (3) Lower back (flank) pain just below the ribs.
- (4) Visibly bloody, or coffee-colored urine. Changes in the pattern of urination, increased frequency, urination at night.
- (5) Burning, or any abnormal sensation, in urination.
- (6) High blood pressure.

The local chapter urges anyone experiencing any of these symptoms to contact their physician immediately.

High blood pressure, which can be both a cause and an effect of kidney disease, was added to the list of warning signs this year by the National Kidney Foundation.

Mrs. Dittmar said: "It is a major cause of kidney failure, especially in blacks who are twice as likely to have high blood pressure."

"The foundation" considers high blood pressure to be the single, most controllable, cause of permanent kidney failure."

Further information can be obtained by contacting the Western Region Metro Detroit Chapter of the Kidney Foundation of Michigan at 476-6268, or by calling the foundation's state office toll free in Ann Arbor at (313) 800-462-0757.

Clan gathers for 90th year celebration

Among the area's newest nonagenarians is Mrs. Ruby Wright Miller of Belleville who chalked up her 90th birthday March 3. In honor of the occasion, a family party was held at her Elwell Road home March 7. Mrs. Miller, who was born in Sumpter Township where she has lived all her life, is a school teacher of a by-gone era — that of the one-room school house where she taught before and during her marriage to Fred Miller. The couple's only child is Glenn Miller who lives nearby with his wife, Maxine. Their two children are Robert, who resides in Belleville with his wife, Kathy; and Beverly, who makes her home in Howell with her husband, Perry Points. Mrs. Miller's four great-grandchildren are Michelle and Jeffrey Miller and Kristin and Noelle Points. A life member of the Plymouth Grange, Mrs. Miller was a charter member of the old Belleville group. She enjoys spending her time crocheting, embroidering, quilting and making pillow tops. She also is an avid television sports fan.

Relatives at 60th anniversary

A trip to northern Michigan was on the calendar Feb. 21 for Belleville residents, Cynthia and Claude Enzenauer and children of Riggs Road and Juliann and Carl Phelps and children of Sumpter Road.

The group traveled to Mackinac City for a dinner party at Downing's Restaurant in honor of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pachy of Carp Lake, Mich., who were marking their 60th wedding anniversary.

Also attending were former residents, Mary and Clifford Prain, the Pachy's daughter and son-in-law of Gibraltar.

On Sunday, an anniversary mass was held at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Mackinac City after which the pastor, The Rev. Joseph V. Kluonius, and parish members hosted a champagne breakfast for the family and attending congregation.

Scout families invited to program

St. Anthony Junior Girl Scout and Brownie troops will play host to their fellow scouts from Edgemont and

Denton Elementary Schools when the Belleville Girl Scout cluster, which they comprise, presents a special program in celebration of Girl Scout week.

Parents and family members as well as friends and neighbors are urged to share in the program since the girls have put in many hours preparing for the event. It will begin at 4:25 p.m. at North Junior High School on March 12.

Titled "Flames of Freedom," the candle lighting ceremony will be held with all U.S. Scouts simultaneously at 5 p.m. To symbolize the spirit of freedom, a nationwide torch will be put ablaze at the same time. The flame will also stand for the Girl Scout pledge to carry forward the light of freedom for all people.

Each troop will take part by performing various skits, songs and dances to commemorate the U.S. Girl Scout's 64th birthday as well as the Bicentennial.

Their names were missing

In receiving information for the fashion show follow-up in last week's issue, two people were inadvertently omitted and should receive credit. Missing from the program listing for hair styles was Rhonda Spoonamore who worked with Janice Welt in creating coiffures.

Pat Spoonamore of the Hair Station was responsible for the men's hair styles.

LaLeche begins new series

The La Leche League of Belleville announces its spring series of meetings. These sessions, four in number and a month apart, are geared to the why and how of breastfeeding. Realizing that many modern women wish to nurse their babies or want to learn more about it in order to decide whether or not to do so, this series is designed to help with accurate information.

Three generations back, it would have been unnecessary since young women had been familiar with the normal procedure in their own families. However, in our time, most women need a source of information and encouragement. The nursing mothers who comprise La Leche League try to fill this need.

Meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Marilyn Wales in Belleville Manors Trailer Park, 8701 Belleville Road, Lot 259.

At Denton church

'Careers' is theme at BPW meeting

The monthly meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) was held March 1 at Faith United Methodist Church in Denton with 32 members and guests attending.

The theme for the evening was "Careers: Then and Now" and featured a retired school teacher, Velma Kulzer. She spoke on teaching in 1930 and the restrictions in the teaching profession at that time. She noted the many advances that have been made since then, especially student teachers helping students and the advantages of their presence.

The two young careerist candidates at the meeting were Jan Hink and Kathy Rennell. The former is a second grade teacher at Haggerty Elementary School who has taught for eight years. She spoke about the many advancements in her field.

Mrs. Rennell is associated with Kureth's Apparel in Belleville and her topic was the clothing business.

Members welcomed back a former member, Paula Baird, who has rejoined after moving back to Michigan.

The District 15 meeting April 7 will be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn. The cost is $10 and any member interested should contact the BPW treasurer or president.

Nitrite need

Use of nitrites in curing meat products is a safety measure since nitrites inhibit the development of the dreaded, often fatal, botulism toxin. Nitress also give cured meats their typical color, flavor and keeping qualities.

MUSICAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

On one of his latest albums John Denver writes: "When I first heard Tom's song, 'Whose Garden Was This' I started thinking about all the things that change as we grow older — things that we lose or forget, or that somehow pass us by. These songs are a reflection of those thoughts — having to do with today's memories and, perhaps, tomorrow's." The album? "Whose Garden Was This." It is a really good piece of work, containing not only the little song, but other good ones as well, "Mr. Bojangles," "Eleanor Rigby," "The Night they Drove Old Dixie Down."

Elwell students enthusiastic over 'Group'

The long hours of rehearsal, loading and unloading heavy equipment, playing until late at night and signing autographs paid off for a musical group when it appeared recently at Elwell Elementary School in Van Buren Township.

"The Group," composed of Lamar Kirk, John Jacques and Gary Randall, was enthusiastic about its recent appearance.

"Those kids were the most responsive audience we've played to," Randall said. "They enjoyed all the music we played."

According to the musicians, most elementary school children listen to the radio and have set feelings about music.

"They asked a lot of good questions about music," Kirk said after the assemblies and visits to a few of the classes to talk with the students.

"I was impressed by the number of kids that already play instruments, or have formed their own groups," Jacques added.

Randall played in a band in high school and sang in the school choir. He plays both the 6 and the 12-string guitars.

Jacques has been playing guitar since he was 10 years old. He also plays blues harp and has recently taught himself to play the bass guitar and banjo.

Kirk is the bass guitar player in The Group, but he also plays 6 and 12-string guitars.

All three musicians have done solo work before but this is the first time they have worked as a group. Kirk and Jacques have been playing together since early November, and Randall joined them in December to form "The Group."

"They now are performing at the Apartment Supper Club in Ann Arbor from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Monday and Tuesday and from 5 to 8 p.m. Friday. They also play at the Coffeehouse at Holy Trinity Chapel in Ypsilanti on Sunday evenings. And Jacques plays solo at T.C.'s Speakeasy at 9 p.m. Sundays.

"We play all kinds of music. People like all different types — country, folk, and rock and roll. We play what sounds good," Kirk said.

"We hear a song that sounds good and start playing it in rehearsal," Randall added. "It usually takes two or three practice sessions before we're ready to play it for an audience. We practice together about 15 hours a week, which is not really enough time," according to Kirk.

But for the youngsters at Elwell School, the visit by "The Group" was a trip into the world of music.

Hearing will air '76 PCHA budget

A public hearing on a proposed new operating budget and proposed budget changes for the 1976-77 year for the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

The budget hearing will be conducted in the Staff Room of the Annapolis Hospital, located at 33155 Annapolis Avenue, Wayne.

The public hearing also will concern amendments, or transfers in the 1975-76 operating budget as previously adopted by the PCHA's Board of Directors.

A copy of the proposed budget for the 1976-77 year and proposed changes in the 1975-76 budget will be available for public inspection at the office of the secretary of the authority, also located at 33101 Annapolis Avenue.

This spring, do something about next winter's heating costs.

Insulate!

More than 100,000 Michigan Consolidated Gas Company heating customers have taken advantage of our low-cost ceiling insulation program in the past two years.

Originated under the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, we are presenting the program again this spring.

Why insulate? Because it helps hold down home heating costs. With the cost of gas continuing to rise, installing ceiling insulation has never made more sense than it does right now. Many Michigan Consolidated customers have already reduced their gas consumption for home heating by as much as 17%. And you can save just as much by installing six inches of ceiling insulation in your home this spring.

How much does it cost? Many homeowners can install insulation themselves for about $125. That's a smart investment when the money you save on heating can repay the insulation cost in just a few years. We have a free handbook that shows you just how to do the job, whether you'll be insulating for the first time or adding to insulation that's been there for many years. You can get a copy at any Michigan Consolidated Gas Company Business Office, most building supply dealers, or write or call us.

If you'd rather not do the job yourself, one of our participating subcontractors can. Total cost is about $250 for homes with less than 1000 sq. ft. of ceiling area. You can pay cash. You can pay 20% down and pay the balance without interest over your next three gas bills. Or you can make extended payments at the interest rate of 1% per month on the unpaid balance (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%).

So why not insulate this spring? You'll make next winter's heating costs less than they might be without it. And if you have air conditioning, you'll save on this summer's cooling costs, too.

Unscheduled carwash

Many motorists driving through the Belleville-Romulus community received an unscheduled "auto wash" as streets flooded after the recent snow thaw. The Enterprise-Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko caught a picture of this watery sight on Merriman Road, south of Beverly Road in Romulus. But the road flooding conditions weren't restricted to Merriman Road alone, as all community residents can attest to. With the mixture of cold, snow and rain, we've been experiencing, one begins to wonder if Mother Nature is having a difficult time making up her mind. — Photo by ANP Chief Photographer Lothar E. Aged's medical insurance opens up for enrollment

Residents who didn't sign up for Medicare medical insurance when they first became eligible, or who have cancelled the protection once, can enroll now through March 31 at any social security office.

Medicare medical insurance is offered automatically to people, who social security benefits, and to disabled people under 65, who have been entitled to monthly social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more. Nine out of 10 people eligible are enrolled in the program.

Some people decline the protection when they're first eligible. And some sign up once and cancel later. They can enroll in the first three months of any year.

The medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses and is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and federal general revenues. The basic premium is $6.70 a month through June 1976.

People who decline Medicare medical insurance and delay signing up for more than a year pay a higher premium. People who sign up and cancel later can re-enroll only once.

The medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance. The hospital insurance is funded by social security contributions from workers, employers and self-employed people.

People who are 65 and over and who are not eligible for social security benefits can apply at any social security office and get Medicare hospital insurance by paying a premium. The basic premium is $40 a month through June 1976, however, they also must sign up for the medical insurance.

People who have worked long enough under social security can get Medicare hospital and medical insurance for themselves and their family, if they have chronic kidney disease and need a kidney transplant or dialysis.

The Dearborn social security office, located at 1855 W. Outer Drive, can provide additional information.

Music for Morris: 'A different world'

Robert Morris takes his music seriously.

Sometimes, when he's playing piano accompaniment for Eastern Michigan University's (EMU) dance classes, he becomes so involved, someone has to yell at him to finish a piece.

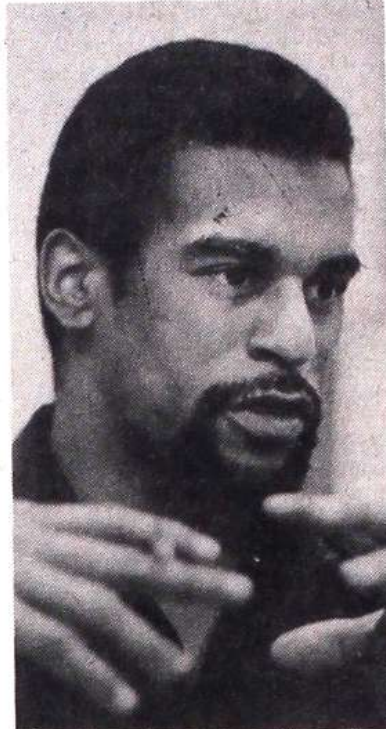

"When I get to a piano it's a different world," the young pianist admitted.

Morris is the EMU Dance Division's official accompanist. He plays an average of six hours a day for many of the dance classes offered at EMU. Dance concerts and recitals are part of his job, too.

The dance teacher works out the pattern the students will work on during a given class period. The students, then, do the movement as Morris observes. "I then get a sense of the movement and put it in another language — music," he said.

Morris added that he helps teach rhythmic analysis — how to decipher the notation for rhythms and how it coincides with rhythms.

A native of New Boston, Morris later moved to Belleville, where he attended high school. There he sang in the school choir for three years and was on the track team.

ROBERT MORRIS

A member of the University staff since September, Morris admitted he first thought the EMU dancers would be better off dancing to a record player.

"But now I realize that music should be custom-fit," he said. "The pianist goes along as a co-teacher with the dance teacher. If I accent at the wrong time, the class makes the move prematurely."

At certain moments, you feel in tune with the dancer, like "having a well-tuned car or a finely-synchronized watch," he added.

Morris holds bachelor's and master's degrees in music from EMU. He loves to perform, and gets the chance periodically when he plays cello with the EMU-Civic Symphony Orchestra. He says he has no favorite composer or piece, but he enjoys playing traditional Western concert music, a form known to most of us as "classical music."

"What makes music and what makes dance, is the aesthetic beauty — especially the non-verbal communication which appeals on an emotional as well as the intellectual level," he explained.

Morris admits that he is not a dancer himself. However, he has taken some dance classes at EMU since he landed the accompanist post.

Because of the Dance Division's close association with the health, physical education and recreation area, EMU dancers have had to "fight for their own identity."

"Some people think that just because dance is physical exertion, it goes with physical education. But it's much more," he said, adding that many dance movements are extremely complicated and require great concentration and intelligence.

"I find any kind of music hard not to listen to, but I don't want to be known as an 'Elton John-style' piano player," he said. "Few people have enough exposure to concert music; their greatest exposure is to the radio. And to think that (pop performers) represent the highest form of piano playing is a great mistake."

Cathey appointed to 200th committee

A Romulus resident active in the Knights of Columbus (K of C) has been appointed commissioner on the Romulus Bicentennial Commission by Romulus Mayor James Stewart.

Kenneth Cathey, a past charter grand knight and past faithful navigator of the third and fourth degrees respectively, will serve as a representative-liaison of the Catholic men's organization.

Cathey, who serves in major elective and appointive offices of the Tagus Caravan 147 of the Catholic Fraternal Order of the Alhambra and in a major appointive office of the Michigan Council of Caravans, will also serve as a representative of the Order of the Alhambra on the city commission.

According to Mayor Stewart, Cathey also was appointed to the commission in recognition of his being the "sole creator, developer, founder, institutor and organizer of the new Fr. Maximilian Kolbe Council 6549 (of the K of C) and having served as its first charter grand knight."

The Romulus Bicentennial Commission is charged with the task of planning the community's observance of the United States' 200th birthday.

The Belleville school is scheduled to open the afternoon's competition at 1:30 p.m. with the Romulus Junior High finishing the day's competition at 4:25 p.m.

Junior High bands from throughout Wayne, Washtenaw and Monroe counties will compete for rankings by division in the competition with an eye toward a first-division rank and a shot at the state junior high school band competition to be held later in the spring.

Judges at the event will be Nicholas Camici, former band director and assistant principal at Ferndale High School; Richard Jensen of Saginaw Arthur Hill High School; Larry Smith, head of the music department for the Hillsdale Schools, and William Watts, head of the music department at Catholic Central High School in Detroit.

The competition will be kicked off by the Gerisch Middle School of Southgate with its performance beginning at 8 a.m.

The Plymouth Central Advanced Band will play at 8:25 a.m. and will be followed by the Slauson Concert Band from Ann Arbor at 8:50 a.m.

The Riverview Seitz Concert Band of Riverview will perform at 9:30 a.m. and the Grosse Ile Symphony Band will follow at 9:55 a.m.

The Bedford Junior High School Symphonic Band from Temperance is scheduled to play at 10:20 a.m. with the Davidson Junior High School Symphony from Southgate performing at 10:45 and the Taylor Junior High School Concert Band filling the 11:10 a.m. spot.

The Belleville North Junior High School Band from Van Buren

Township will open the afternoon competition by performing at 1:30 p.m. and will be followed by the Forsythe Intermediate School Concert Band out of Ann Arbor, which will play at 1:55 p.m.

The Tappan Concert Band from Ann Arbor will perform at 2:20 p.m. and the Hoover Junior High School Concert Band from Taylor will follow at 2:45 p.m.

Brake Junior High School's Concert Band out of Taylor will perform at 3:10 p.m. and the Scarlett Intermediate School Concert Band from Ann Arbor will perform at 3:35 p.m. The Plymouth West Symphony Band is scheduled to perform at 4 p.m. and the Romulus South Junior High School Symphonic Band is scheduled to fill the 4:25 p.m. slot.

All area residents are invited to attend the competition, however no one will be admitted to the auditorium or allowed to leave the room during a performance.

Bands will be asked to perform three pieces including a required musical selection, a song selected by the band and a march.

Added to the individual bands' ratings on the three songs will be a mark given each school for sight reading.

Bands finishing in the first division of the competition will go on to state competition to obtain some ranking on the state level.

Last Year the Romulus South band was one of nine bands from throughout Michigan to attain the first division rank in state competition.

Belleville HS band gains No. 1 ranking

While one area school will be testing its skills against the best in its division this weekend, another school, Belleville High, has come back ranked at the top of its peers.

The Belleville High School Symphony Band, conducted by Dennis A. Miller, has returned from competition, sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association District 12 with a "first division" rating and a shot at the state competition.

Competing in the Class AA division, the Belleville High School Symphony was one of only two schools competing in the division at Grosse Pointe over the weekend to receive the first rating.

A first division rating, granted on the performances of the entire band during three musical pieces, qualifies the musicians for state competition.

Each band was judged on performances of a selection required by the judges for the competition, a selection of the band's own choosing and a sight-read piece.

The three judges in the competition each rated the Belleville entry in the first division.

Overall marks for bands in the competition are based on the average rating obtained from the three judges.

Area residents will be able to view the symphony band in performance as part of the joint Symphony Band — Concert Band Mid-Winter Concert scheduled for 4 p.m. Sunday at the Belleville High School auditorium.

Performances include a solo by Scott Rice of the Symphony Band, a flute quartet by Margot Brown, Donna Adams, Nancy Harris and Vanessa Hall and a saxophone quartet by Larry Spino, Gerry Brady, Brenda Alspaugh and Scott DuBois.

The quartets were first-division winners at the annual solo and ensemble festival which preceded the band competition held March 6.

Selections to be performed include "Trumpeter's Lullaby", featuring Rice as the soloist, and concert pieces by Bach, Caccavas and MacBeth. The symphony Band will perform selections by Bernstein, Offenbach, Jager, Anderson, Neubauer and Mozart and will include appearances by student teachers Eileen Heath and Kerry Thompson.

Admission to the 4 p.m. concert is free.

Romulus HS band garners 1st No. 1

For the first time in its history, the Romulus Senior High School Band has netted a No. 1 rating in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA) competition.

The band, under the direction of Ralph Miller, competed against 16 other musical groups in the contest in Dearborn Heights last weekend.

The No. 1 rating allows the group to advance to the state competition to be held May 1.

Miller said the band's participation in the competition was only the third time in its history. The first time was in 1970 when the band earned a four rating, then it appeared again in 1975 gaining a No. 2 rank.

The No. 1 ranking means the Romulus band is superior in all areas of performance.

Also taking part in similar music competition will be the high school's Stage Band, which will compete for honors on April 10.

State honors Girl Scouts this week

In honoring the Girl Scouts' 64th anniversary, Gov. William G. Milliken has signed a proclamation designating this week (March 7-13) as Girl Scout Week in Michigan.

March 12 is the 64th birthday for Michigan's 160,000 Girl Scouts and 3.2 million nationwide.

In commenting on the Girl Scouts' anniversary, Milliken said:

"The Girl Scout organization with its 3.2 million members is deeply committed to building better relationships among persons of all ages, religion, races and nationalities, and is vitally concerned with improving the quality of government."

Hmm, hmm good

The ninth grade class of Belleville's South Junior High School wanted to mark Black History Week in a special way and came up with a culinary treat, with the emphasis on "soul food." The idea, originated by ninth grader Kim Brown, turned out to be a dinner made up of turkey with stuffing, salad, greens, corn bread and sweet potato pie. And before devouring the meal, the class joined in a group photograph around the buffet table.

At annual banquet

Scouts visit airbase

Cubs of Scout Pack 739 and their parents enjoyed a tour of Selfridge Air Force Base recently.

Approximately 40 visitors toured the air raid weather station, the flight line showing different plane models and the navy hanger.

The boys were shown planes with their wings folded to be carried on the air craft carriers, and each toured the inside of a plane and inspected the instrument panel.

Roman viaduct?

It's normal for a culvert in Van Buren Township to carry water under some important improvement and back to a ditch to aid drainage. But this culvert has been left "high and dry", just like the original Roman viaducts, because of the heavy drainage run-off and resultant erosion in the township. The pipe is near the bottom of the Belleville Lake dam in Van Buren, which is being heavily taxed to hold back storm flow from the Huron River from downriver communities. — Belleville-Enterprise photo by Lothar E. Konietzko.

School Spanish Club sponsors needy child

HURON HISPANIC CLUB'S HILDA

A needy little girl living in a girls' home in Mexico has a better chance in life thanks to the Spanish Club at Huron High School in New Boston.

The club is sponsoring the youngster — 8-year-old Hilda — through the Christian Children's Fund (CCF).

"We wanted an unselfish purpose for having the club," said Jennifer Wolin, teacher at the school. The Huron High students wanted to sponsor a child in a Spanish-speaking country.

"In that the club is a Spanish Club it was hoped we'd learn more about the languages and customs of the people," Miss Wolin added. The group has been helping needy children through CCF for more than three years.

Most of the girls at the home where Hilda lives were orphaned, or abandoned, by parents too poor to care for them. The girls needed food and care when they came to the home, a CCF spokesman said.

Through the sponsorship program, the Spanish Club helps Hilda get the care she needs. Hilda now has a safe, clean place to live, and at the home she receives nourishing meals and clean clothes. Hilda also can go to school, and when she is older she can take vocational courses, the spokesman added.

The Huron High students received Hilda's photograph, and they also receive information about the kind of help she is getting.

The students make the money to pay for Hilda's sponsorship in various ways. And they have earned enough to send her gifts on special occasions.

"At the beginning of the year, dues are collected in order to join the club," Miss Wolin said. "The rest of the money is made through fund-raising projects like taco sales. Extra contributions are sent on Christmas and on the child's birthday."

Hilda and a correspondent for the club exchange letters with each other. And the correspondent shares Hilda's letters with the group.

"Basically, she simply tells us how she is and how she's doing in school. At one time she sent her report card," Miss Wolin added.

She believes that the high schoolers have shown their concern for Hilda in two important ways.

"We've sent her money, and let her know that we care," she said.

And Miss Wolin feels that her students also benefit from their involvement in the CCF sponsorship program. They have a "self-satisfaction that comes from knowing you have helped others."

"It can be a rewarding experience," she said.

The Christian Children's Fund, with headquarters in Richmond, Va., helps needy children in many countries.

Horsemen to hear DNR official

A park designer from Michigan's Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will be the featured guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Romulus Horsemen Association.

The association's meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday in the Community Room, located on the lower level of the Romulus City Hall at 11111 South Wayne Road, Romulus.

Roger C. Whitner of the DNR park division will talk on available riding trails, bridle paths and camp sites and answer questions on the proposed establishment of local bridle paths, possibly in the cities of Romulus and Belleville.

Association officials urged representatives from area saddle and horseman associations, as well as the general public, to attend the free session.

For further information on the meeting contact Charlotte McBride at 729-6922.

WCRC prohibits nighttime parking along park roads

Parking no longer will be permitted along the roadway and in the parking lots of Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) operated parks from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

In an effort to curb what has turned into a serious vandalism problem in some county parks, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners approved a resolution at the request of the WCRC to ban parking near all parks during the hours the facilities are closed.

Area parks affected are Holliday Park in Westland, Edward Hines

Park in Westland, the Lower Rouge Parkway in Wayne and Westland and Victory Park in Belleville.

The most serious problem from the order appears to be at Victory Park, where roadside parking space is utilized by the Belleville city offices at night.

The move reportedly was designed to curb problems in local parks caused by a few rowdies, particularly in the Edward Hines Parkway near the Cass Benton sledding site in the Plymouth-Northville areas.

Employee honored

Belleville resident Robert Belville was one of 49 employees to be honored for service to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of Ann Arbor at a recent dinner reception.

Belville has been an employee of the hospital's engineering department for 15 years.

Administrators and department directors attended the dinner with honored employees and their guests.

Sr. Mary Yvonne, executive director, presented each employee with a token of the hospital's appreciation.

"The last 15 to 30 years have involved drastic changes at the hospital," Sr. Yvonne said. "Your jobs have become more complex or have changed completely. You have been able to change, too, in order to accomplish new goals."

Medicare eligibility is extended

Residents who didn't sign up for Medicare medical insurance when they first became eligible, or who have cancelled the protection once, can enroll now through March 31 at any social security office.

Medicare medical insurance is offered automatically to people, who reach 65 years and are eligible for social security benefits, and to disabled people under 65, who have been entitled to monthly social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more. Nine out of 10 people eligible are enrolled in the program.

Some people decline the protection when they're first eligible. And some sign up once and cancel later. They can enroll in the first three months of any year.

The medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses and is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and federal general revenues. The basic premium is $6.70 a month through June 1976.

People who decline Medicare medical insurance and delay signing up for more than a year pay a higher premium. People who sign up and cancel later can re-enroll only once. The medical insurance supplements Medicare hospital insurance. The hospital insurance is funded by social security contributions from workers, employers and self-employed people.

People who are 65 and over and who are not eligible for social security benefits can apply at any social security office and get Medicare hospital insurance by paying a premium. The basic premium is $40 a month through June 1976, however, they also must sign up for the medical insurance.

People who have worked long enough under social security can get Medicare hospital and medical insurance for themselves and their family, if they have chronic kidney disease and need a kidney transplant or dialysis.

The Dearborn social security office, located at 19855 W. Outer Drive, can provide additional information.

Tar/Taste Theory Exploded.

New 9 mg. tar MERIT with 'Enriched Flavor' proves taste no longer depends on amount of tar.

Until today, cigarette flavor pretty much depended on the amount of tar that went along with it.

Regardless of "low tar, good taste" claims, regardless of fancy-filters and "space-age" filtering systems—you couldn't get high taste without high tar.

Nor low tar without low taste.

That was the theory.

Until today.

By isolating certain "key" ingredients of tobacco in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have developed an 'Enriched Flavor' process so successful at boosting flavor, the resulting cigarette actually delivers as much—or more—taste than brands having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar.

The cigarette is 9 mg. tar MERIT. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. If you smoke—you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself—all tested at home.*

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

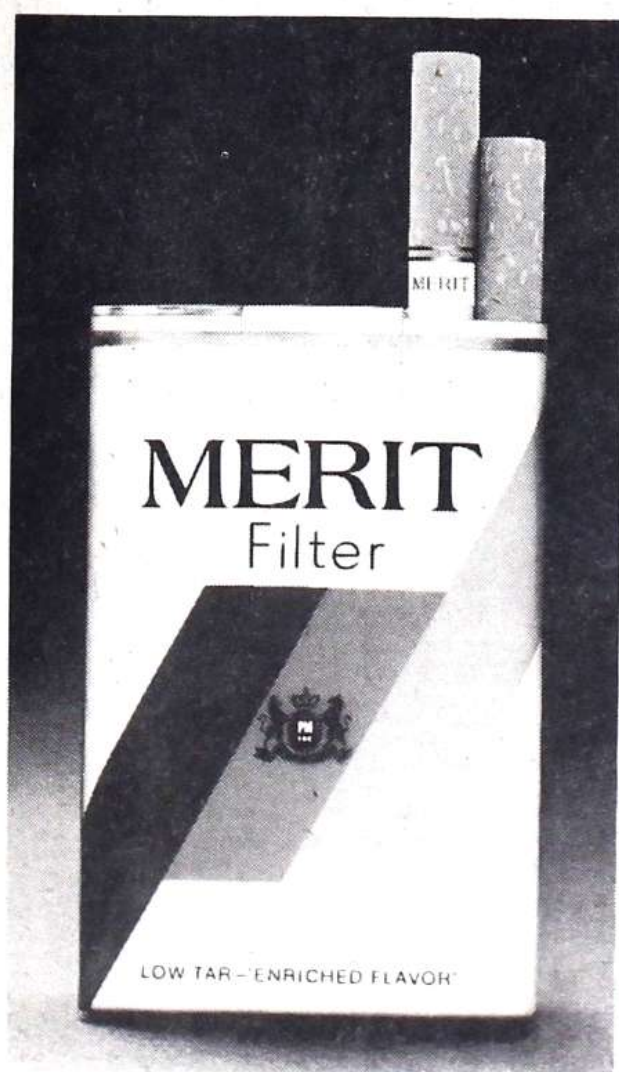

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly, too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

Franklin captures 'A' district title

Denby is 1st test in regionals

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Pat Montagano is reluctant to label it "a jinx."

But how else can one explain Churchill's loss to Livonia Franklin, which rallied in the last minute to win a nail-biting 47-46 Class A District basketball championship Friday night at Livonia Stevenson?

Churchill led by as much as 15 points before hitting a cold spell in the third period, then crumbling to their cross-town rivals, Franklin went ahead for the first time in the game with 47 seconds left on the clock on a drive-in layup by Sam Williams.

It was the second time in four years that Franklin has taken the district title away from Montagano's Chargers. And it was Franklin and Coach Bob Visser's third district championship in four years.

Franklin will meet a highly-touted Detroit Denby tonight at 7:30 in the second round of regional competition at Franklin High. Last night, Southfield Lathrup took on Bloomfield Hills Lahser to determine which would advance to the championship round. The championship will be decided 7:30 p.m. Friday night.

"We played a real bad game against Churchill," Visser said. "We can't afford another like it against Denby. They have too much balance."

The Franklin and Denby matchup is a proverbial David (Franklin) and Goliath (Denby) battle. Denby sports a 6-11 pivotman in Stuart House and has an excellent all-around cager in 6-8 Rudolph Watley while guard James Newman (5-10) and 6-2 forward Bernard Goss also command respect.

Matt Foster staked Churchill to a 16-7 lead as the rugged All-Area gridders sank eight points in the first period.

Sports

The Chargers then built up a 30-16 advantage, and, with one minute left before the intermission, Franklin's Dan Pederson brought the Patriots back into the game.

Pederson hit on two consecutive one-and-ones and also pumped in a jump shot for six quick points and John Elmore sank an on-the-buzzer shot to cut Churchill's lead by eight points.

Franklin, instead of worrying about a 15 point deficit at intermission, trailed by seven, 31-24, at the half.

Churchill never really recovered. The Chargers came out in the third period and didn't get their first basket until 3:42 left in that period. That basket was a Foster contribution.

Meanwhile, Franklin came within one point of tying it up thanks to Pederson's four points and baskets by Mike Kaseta and Elmore.

Churchill got some breathing room when Scott Shepard flipped in a layup and Dave Clare made two free throws, widening the gap to 37-32. But Williams' 3-point play cut the Churchill lead to two points, 37-35.

Shepard then drove in before the buzzer sounded for his final basket, giving Churchill a 39-35 three-periods' lead to protect.

Franklin came within two again on a pair of Pederson free throws early in the fourth quarter and the Chargers retreated into a zone defense in an attempt to stop the Patriots. And it looked as if Churchill found the answer when Tom Bay and Shepard drilled in back-to-back baskets to give the Chargers a 43-39 lead.

However, Churchill didn't score another basket. They suffered through a 5-minute drought that ended momentarily when Foster sank both ends of a one-and-one.

Meanwhile, Franklin baskets by Smith and Dave Wilson made it a 46-41 ball game with 2:16 remaining.

Williams came up with a steal with 1:46 left and sank it and Lyons scored on a jumper to close the gap to 46-45 as Churchill called for a time out with 59 seconds left.

Williams came back with a layup that gave Franklin the lead for the first time and for good with 47 seconds left. The final 29 seconds were punctuated with turnovers by both teams.

Pederson's 17 points gave him individual scoring honors while Williams finished with 13.

Foster sank 14 and Clare collected 11 for the Chargers who outscored their rivals from the field 20-17 but made only six of 15 free throws to Franklin's 13 of 21 effort.

We're No. 1

Livonia Franklin could well be the "Cinderella Team" of the 1976 Class A basketball playoffs. Coach Bob Visser's Patriots stunned cross-town rival Churchill to capture the Class A District Championship held at Livonia Stevenson. Above, Dorothy Bentley, Stevenson High principal, presents the District championship trophy to members of the Franklin team and Coach Bob Visser.

Stoelton wins 2 league swim titles

Closing the gap on Class A state swim power Dearborn, Belleville High finished second at the 1976 Suburban 8 Conference Swimming & Diving Championships held over the weekend at Plymouth Salem.

Belleville's "super soph" Mark Stoelton picked up a pair of gold medals as he tied the school record in finishing first for the 50-yard freestyle. He was clocked in 22.8.

Stoelton also turned in a 50.2 for the 100-yard freestyle for his second gold medal. That time was two-tenths of a second off the school record.

"It was a great meet for us," said Belleville High coach Sam Vicchy.

"We're swimming faster and faster each year."

Belleville will be presented in the Class A state meet Friday with medley and freestyle relay teams. Stoelton will swim for state honors in the 50- and 100 freestyle events while Ray Paponetti has a good chance to qualify in his specialty, diving.

The Tiger medley foursome is made up of Ron Curtis, Scott Hennells, Farley Parsons and Stoelton while the freestyle relay lineup includes Jeff Fogarty, Harold Gable, Howard Renton and Steve Lehman.

Curtis also qualified to swim in the state meet in the 100-yard backstroke

Trailing Wayne were Riverview, Lincoln Park, Taylor Center and Lincoln Truman.

"This is the best we have ever performed in the league," McPartlin said. "I felt we did an outstanding job."

Ypsi spoils Belleville district plans

Braves eliminate Tigers with last minute rally, 61-60

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

It just wasn't in the post-season books for Coach Tom Niemi and Belleville cagers.

The Tigers, who took a 17-3 record into last week's Class A District playoffs, lost a heartbreaking 61-60 decision to host, Ypsilanti, and were ousted from the district playoffs.

The loss ended Belleville's basketball season prematurely.

"When you lose, you got to be disappointed," said Niemi whose Tigers beat Ypsilanti 63-49 in the opening game of the 1975-76 campaign. "We didn't play as well as we did all year but I felt we played good enough to win against Ypsi.

Belleville missed three critical one-and-ones in the last period and made a couple of key turnovers that fueled Ypsilanti's last period rally.

Ypsilanti trailed by as much as 11 points (48-39) going into the fourth period. Then, Scott Davis sparked a 22-point rally with 12 of his 16 points that led to Belleville's demise.

Ypsilanti grabbed a 23-19 first period advantage as Mel Slater and Coleman pumped in six points each for the Braves which were answered, in part, by Dennis Easley and Narvell Turner who each sank five and Cornell Gratham counted seven for the Tigers.

Belleville settled down in the second period and tightened up its defense which gave up a mere six points for the quarter. And, with the help of James Thompkins' six points and Gratham's four the Tigers took a 33-29 lead into the lockerroom.

The Tigers widened the gap even more in the third stanza as the Tigers outscored their arch-rivals 15-10 with the help of Easley's seven points and Turner's four, however, Ypsi came alive early in the fourth period.

"Ypsi hit extremely well from the outside," Niemi explained. "We had a last shot that we missed from about six feet out."

Easley ended his prep cage career with 16 points while Gratham, who twisted his ankle early in the fourth period, settled for 11, and Kevin Barnes counted 10.

Davis and Coleman each accounted for 16 points for the Braves.

"I'm very proud of this ball club," Niemi added. "They improved with every ball game."

Asked if his team wasn't looking ahead to the Monroe game, a team that was undefeated and eventually won the Ypsilanti district title, Niemi replied:

"No, I don't think so. I know we were dreaming of going a lot farther than we did, but no one can ever tell what will happen in sports — that's what makes it so exciting and interesting."

Waynites lead Schoolcraft

Three ex-Wayne Memorial High School wrestlers led the Schoolcraft College matmen to a 11-6 record this season. The outstanding performers, who starred at Wayne under Coach Don Haney, are Dale Stutesman, Bob Matheson and Rick Hislop.

Freshman Stutesman, a '73 graduate of Wayne and a state qualifier as a senior, captained SC Coach Dean Shipman's squad this season. He led the Ocelots with 26 victories. The slick 118-pounder was a gold medalist in the Triton Invitational in Chicago.

Stutesman also led the Ocelot grapplers in three other categories. He took his opponents down 24 times which was tops, had nine two-point near falls and 12 three-point near falls to lead the team. Stutesman's 18 reversals and 19 escapes was second best for SC.

Dale suffered an injury just before the NCCAA Conference Meet which hurt his chances of placing. He just missed a chance to go to the Nationals in Minnesota, by being decisioned in an overtime match by a Southwestern Mich. grappler, in the consolation finals.

Stutesman was named the wrestler of the month for SC for Dec., Jan., and Feb., by Coach Shipman.

Matheson also suffered an injury towards the end of the season putting him out of competition for the rest of the year, which hurt Coach Shipman's matmen.

The third ex-Wayne Memorial star grappler is Hislop. Hislop was a third place finisher in the Michigan State Finals, in '75.

The 177 pound freshman wound up with 12 wins which was third best for the SC team. Hislop had 21 escapes and 11 two-point near falls. Rick also had the team's fastest pin, as he stuck a Lansing matman in 50 seconds.

"These three men did a fine job this year and I'm happy to have them coming back next year," Shipman said

Divine Child '5' erases Inkster in semi-finals

Inkster chose the wrong time and wrong place to come up with its poorest shooting performance of the season.

Consequently, Coach George Thompson Jr.'s Vikings were eliminated by Divine Child 64-51 in the second round of the Class B District Basketball Tournament held at Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

"We couldn't hit anything," said Thompson whose team bowed out with a 9-11 won-lost record, its worst in recent years. "We hit for less than 30 percent and you just can't do that against teams like Divine Child and hope to win."

Divine Child's bid for the district tournament title however, fell short Saturday night as the Falcons dropped a cliffhanger, 57-55, to 12-time state champ, River Rouge.

The Dearbornites wasted little time with Inkster as they built up an 18-10 first period lead and raced ahead 36-19 before the Vikings decided to play ball.

With Rodney Legion showing the way, Inkster rallied in the second half and came within seven points of catching up, but that was the closest.

Inkster outscored its rivals 10-8 in the third period and had a 22-20 edge in the final eight minutes of the game.

Legion was the only Inkster player to hit in double figures. He scored on eight field goals and two free throws for a game high 18 points. He shared individual scoring honors with D.C.'s Jim Wing and Dave Plasters.

Neither team did much at the free throw line. Inkster made use of seven of 12 charities as compared to the Falcons' 14 of 21 performance.

"It's been a frustrating year to say the least," Thompson added. "Everytime I felt we were about to put it together, something would happen."

Cold shooting John Glenn ousted by Churchill, 45-34

Outscoring Westland John Glenn 13-4 in the third period, Livonia Churchill foiled the Rockets' bid for an upset in the first round of Class A District Basketball Tournament competition at Livonia Stevenson, 45-34.

Glenn's Gordie Davis' plan to use a tight zone and a deliberate offense against the Western Six Conference champs kept the game in doubt for the first half.

Churchill held a slim 10-9 first period edge and stayed out in front 18-15 at intermission before Tom Bay keyed a 13-4 third period with his six points to give the Chargers some elbow room.

"We knew we couldn't match them (Churchill), man-to-man," Davis explained. "So we decided to put up a tight zone on them. It worked for the first half, but then they went ahead by 11 and we had to go after them."

Bay, who wound up with 14 points, the game's high got support from Dave Clare who chipped in 12. They were the only two Churchill cagers who hit in double figures.

The Westlanders received 11 points from George Roberts.

The victory advanced Churchill into the finals where it met cross-town rivals, Livonia Franklin.

Franklin managed to come-from-behind and win a last minute 47-45 game.

Glenn meanwhile brought down the curtains to a 6-15 won-lost season, the worst in Davis' seven year coaching career at the high school.

"We lost six very close games and we also lost our leading scorer, Diadiun (Dan), to an injury which didn't help," said Davis. "We're going to have at least four of our starters back next year. I'm hoping the pendulum will swing in the other direction next season."

Rouge unleashes power against Cherry Hill '5'

River Rouge, 12-time Class B state champ, crushed Cherry Hill 84-59, spoiling Coach Dick McNally and the Spartans' debut in Class B tourney play.

Cherry Hill caught the powerful Panthers napping in the early stages of the first round duel at Dearborn Heights Robichaud and shot its way to an 8-2 lead thanks to baskets by Jeff McNally and Herm Thompson.

However, Rouge came back to take a 27-16 lead at the end of the period, then outscored their rivals 18-14 and 26-16 in the next two periods. Rouge held a comfortable 71-46 lead for three periods.

"We just couldn't compete with them on the boards," said McNally whose team finished the season with an 8-12 won-lost record. "They had too much muscle when it came to rebounding."

Jeff McNally, the coach's son, pumped in 11 field goals and three free throws for a game high 25 points, while teammate Scotty Dunsmore also was in double figures with 10 points.

Rouge was near perfect at the free throw line where the Panthers cashed in on 24-of-27 opportunities. Cherry Hill made 11 of 17 charities.

Rouge went on to crush Ecorse in the semi-finals to reach the finals where the perennial state title threat had its first test of the tournament and passed it with a 57-55 victory over Dearborn Divine Child.

McNally summed up the 1975-76 campaign as a gratifying one for him.

"When you see your team progressively get better with each game, you have to be happy," said McNally. "These kids lost seven games by a total of 16 points and if they had won those, well it could have turned things around for us."

Man in the middle

Drawing the attention of Livonia Franklin's John Lyons (44) and Dan Pederson (14) is Churchill's Tom Bay (43) who nabs this rebound during the District Playoffs.

Franklin rallied to erase a 15-point deficit to win the district championship 47-46 to qualify for the regional tournament.

West detours Wayne, 68-58

When you have your opponent on the ropes you should throw your knockout punch.

But Wayne Memorial waited too long in its Class A District basketball confrontation against the then undefeated Garden City West and was felled 68-59.

A head the first two periods 10-9 and 27-25, Wayne lost the services of its hot-scoring forward Bill Crews early in the second period. Crews sprained his ankle after scoring seven points.

West, led by all-state candidate Dave Niles, rallied to a 21-18 advantage in the third period to take the lead by one 46-45, then gunned down their area rivals with a 22-14 last period.

West advanced to the finals where it met and lost to a strong Lathrup quintet.

"I felt the loss of Crews hurt us," said Wayne Coach Bill Hawley. "He had six of our first 10 points and we didn't use him until the last period but he was still hurting."

Niles, who had a fantastic 12-of-12 at the free throw line also hit on six field goals for 24 points, two shy of the game high turned in by Wayne's senior forward Pat Sheridan.

Sheridan wound up with 10 direct hits from the floor and 6-of-9 at the free throw line. He was the only Wayne player in double figures.

West also received an excellent effort from center Mike Susko who dumped in 19 points.

Hawley pinpointed West's exceptional effort at the free throw line "as one of the factors for their (West's) victory." Coach Chris Babler's Tigers cashed in on 26 of 29 chances while Wayne made 13 of 21 charities.

Wayne brought the curtains down on a 9-13 win-lost season, disappointing at the best, according to Hawley.

"I wasn't very happy with the season as a whole," he said. "You can't be when you lose more than you win. But I felt that our kids matured and that they did an excellent job."

"I feel they tried and what more can a coach ask from his athletes?"

ED WILLIS

Willis fares well at NCAA mat regional

Former All-Area grappler Ed Willis, a Wayne Memorial alumnus, finished fourth last weekend in the NCAA Eastern Regional Wrestling Tournament.

The 190-pounder who is a freshman at Morehead State University, dropped his first match but advanced in the consolation bracket to the final match.

Willis is the third MSU wrestler to finish in the top four in the NCAA Regional. Others were 150-pounder Mickey Rzymek and heavyweight Gerry Anthony.

MSU's other competitor, sophomore, Mark Hartbarger, lost his first match in the 134-pound class.

"Ed was a nice surprise," said Coach David Beaver. "We had hoped Mark would do better but Ed's performance was very satisfying."

The Eagles finished the season with a 7-11 record and second place in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Wrestling Tournament.

Local swimmers strike gold

By TOM MOORADIAN
Eagle Sports Editor

Local swimmers struck gold at the Northwest Suburban Conference Swimming & Diving Championships.

Westland John Glenn's stellar diver, Chris Freeborn, compiled 354.95 points to walk away with the league title in his specialty.

Meanwhile, Livonia Franklin came away with league champs in the 200-yard individual medley, 100-yard freestyle and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

In the 200-yard IM, Steve Christie turned in a 2:08.4 and edged Thurston's Kurt Kovach by two-tenths of a second to provide the Livonians with their first gold medal.

Then, in the 100-yard freestyle, Mike Balnaves and teammate Ken Stigleman dueling to the finish and Balnaves was awarded the gold via a judge's decision. Both swimmers were clocked in 51.9.

Coach Larry Teahan also had the winning combination for the 400-yard freestyle relay as Ron St. Pierre joined Balnaves, Stigleman, and Christie in a respectable 3:28.5 finish. "I felt we swam well," said Teahan. "We had four swimmers in each of the individual events and, with the exception of three, all reached the consolation finals or finals."

"We had more people in the finals than ever before," Teahan added.

North Farmington continued its monopoly on the conference championship as the defending champ garnered 408 points to outdistance the field of four. Franklin was runner-up with 251 team points while Thurston finished third (227½), followed by Garden City East (93½) and Westland John Glenn (84).

Who ever heard of FAMILY SIZE ADS!

Most people think of products such as tooth-paste or laundry soap when they see or hear the words "family size" . . . and they think the bigger the package the more economical the purchase. Such is not the case with family size ads in the Classified section of your newspaper. While they are economical, they can be very small in size. It takes only a few lines of type to describe . . . and sell . . . almost any merchandise item you might like to exchange for cash. Small in size, but big in results, remember the little ads in Classified next time you have items around your home which you no longer use. One easy phone call will put your ad in print.
